

So much of the act as requires that the license shall designate the place where the same shall be used, repealed in favour of all whose pursuits are transitory—1828, ch. 85, sec. 5,	952
Widows, executors, and administrators to sell under the license—1828, ch. 85, sec. 7,	952
Ordinary keepers to have the same right of removal as retailers—1828, ch. 85, sec. 8,	952
Additional supplement to the act of 1827, ch. 117, for issuing to traders, ordinary keepers and others: forbidding that act to be construed to require oyster-house keepers to take out separate license for selling liquors, &c. and ordering suits that have been instituted to be struck off—1829, ch. 217,	994
A supplement to the act of 1827, ch. 117, to regulate the issuing of, repealing so much of the 7th section as imposes a fine of $50, for any violations of its provisions, such repeal not to prevent prosecution and trial for any breach of said section—1830, ch. 184,	1006
Cost of, graduated according to stock—1831, ch. 262, sec. 1,*	1030
To milliners whose capital does not exceed $500—$6—1831, ch. 262, sec. 2,	1031
To taverns, &c. to pay 5 per cent. on excess of annual rent or value over $500—1831, ch. 262, sec. 3,*	1031
It shall be the duty of the sheriff to extend against the name of every person contained in the alphabetical list, the amount of goods, wares or merchandise, according to his judgment, where the same shall exceed $2,000, &c.—1831, ch. 362, sec. 4,	1031
Clerks to include in the list returned to the treasurer the amount of annual value for which license has been obtained, where the same shall exceed $2,000, or $500—1831, ch. 362, sec. 5,	1031
Maximum price of, to ordinary keepers, taverns, &c. established—1831, ch. 298,	1046
Courts may withhold license for selling spirituous liquors, &c.—1831, ch. 323, sec. 11,	1072
Persons selling goods, wares, &c. without license, liable to indictment, on conviction to pay not less than $10, nor more than $100, to be paid to the informer—1832, ch. 273,	1085
To include all licenses to trade, offence substantially charged, deemed sufficient to warrant conviction—1832, ch. 273,	1085
Sales made by co-partner, wife, agent, &c. of the party indicted, deemed sufficient to charge the part—1832, ch. 273,	1085
The words goods, wares and merchandise, to include spirituous liquors—1832, ch. 273,	1085
7th and 9th sections of 1827, ch. 117, repealed—1832, ch. 273,	1085
Not to include cider or small beer, made by the person offering to sell, nor to prohibit the distiller from selling in quantities less than a quart—1832, ch. 273, sec. 6,	1086
Licenses to keep oyster-houses, not to be construed to authorize the vending, &c. of spirituous liquors, nor the keeping of an ordinary tavern—1833, ch. 266,	1086

* See 1831, ch. 298.